

Mid-year population estimates for the UK 2014

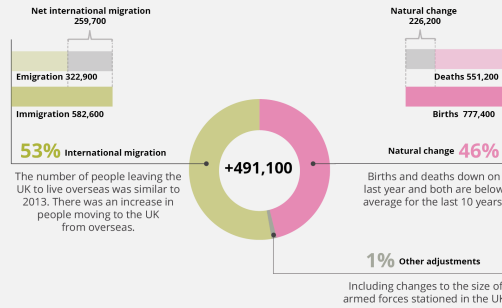

The latest ONS analysis shows that the population of the UK was 64,596,800 up 0.77% since 2013.

WHAT IS THE POPULATION OF THE UK?

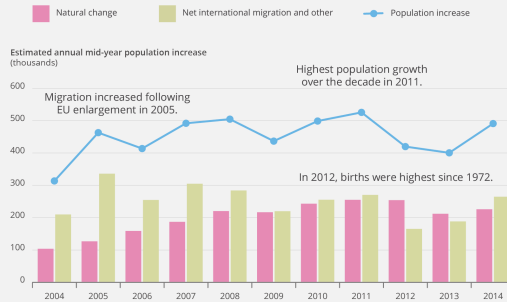

WHAT HAS CAUSED THE POPULATION TO INCREASE?

Net international migration was the main contributor to the UK population increase.

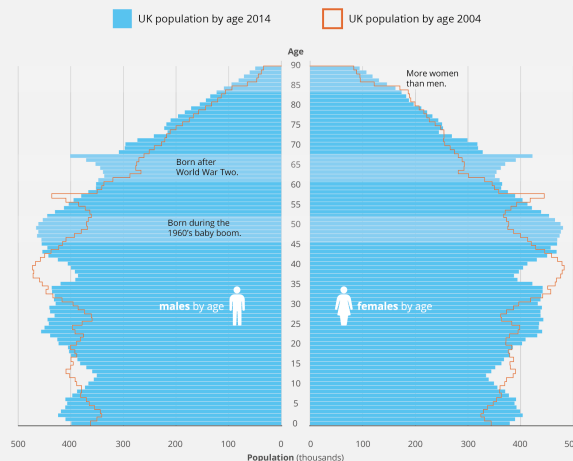

HOW MUCH HAS THE POPULATION INCREASED OVER THE LAST 10 YEARS?

Net international migration contributed more to population change in 2014 and in the earlier part of the decade. In 2012 and 2013 natural change contributed more.

HOW MUCH HAS THE POPULATION AGED SINCE 2004?

There has been a significant increase in the 65+ population since 2004, as well as a notable increase in those aged 43-55.

Numbers have been rounded to the nearest 100